only 3,063. It is scarcely possible, considering the relative strength of the two Democratic factions in the State, and the fact that a large part of the negro publican vote was thrown everywhere for Kolb, that iones could have had a genuine majority in these two counties of more than 4,000. The same reasoning olds good of other Black Belt counties, Perry, Bullock. Wilcox, Lowndes, Hale, Sumter and Mare of which the vote for Jones was increased in similar proportions by methods which have been fully exd in the elaborate evidence already collected by the Kolb State Committee.

The fraudulent character of Governor Jones's vidwas, indeed, so palpable from the day of the election that scarcely any one in Alabama will now eriously deny that Captain Kolb carried the State of honest count, by over 30,000 majority. The storm of indignant protest which arose from every against this bold and open-handed theft of the Gov. ernorship was something new in Alabama politics. Heretofore Republicans and negroes had been the only sufferers by such abuses, and little public sympathy had been wasted upon them. But now the majority of the white Democrats of the State were made to feel the evil effects of a system of fraud which they had for years indulged and countenanced. The Mont gomery method had, in fact, worked out to its legica nclusion. It had begun by the counting of the rotes of the Black Belt negroes for Democratic candidates. By means of this fraud it had secured for its manipulators a disproportionate strength in Demo cratic conventions and the control of the State ma chinery. It had then been used to count out the opposition white majority at the Democratic primarles Now, for the first time, it had been employed to count opposition white majority at the polls,

On trustworthy evidence produced from all quarter Captain Kolb demanded the Governorship and preparations for a contest before the Legislature Efforts at compromise were made, but compromise was now out of the question. Mr. Cleveland added fuel to the factional quarrel by sending a dispatch of con gratulation to Governor Jones-an indiscretion which was quickly turned to account by the opposition. The managers felt free at once to declare war the Cleveland electoral ticket and steps were taken to put opposition electors in the field. After a thor ugh canvass of opinion among his supporters in the August campaign, and a series of conferences with th People's party and Republican leaders, the Lake View Park convention of last week was arranged, and the loint electoral and Congressional ticket of September 16 was nominated. The issue of "a free vote and a fair count" was selected as the basis for the campaign and the work of the convention ended with every prospect of a successful fusion of all opposition ele-ments to defeat the electoral ticket of the Cleveland-Jones machine and to end, if possible, its career

The ticket nominated tast Friday is confidently counted on to draw the support of the Kelb or Jeffer sonian Democracy, the People's party and the Repub With all these elements of strength behind it, can it win? On the face of the figures of the August election it is easy to demonstrate that the regular Democracy is in a minority of from 30,000 to 40,000 in this State. Four-fifths of the white counties of the State were carried by Captain Koth, and his total plurality on the white vote of the State was perhaps 10,000 or 15,000. If the majorities announce for Jones in the black countles of the State were actually east for him, the organized Democracy is lef In the curious position of having won a State victory solely by the help of the negro vote. To repeat that victory next November for the Cleveland electoral ticket, the Democratic managers are confronted with the almost hopeless task of securing, in a National canvass, an actual majority of the negro Republican vote of the State. If, in fact, the joint anti-Cleveland electoral ticket can maintain, in the thirty-nine couties carried by Captain Kolb, the vote Tredited to him by the Jones officials, it will have to gain only 6,300 votes more in the other twenty-seven countles to wip out the majority of over 60,000, given the Cleveland electoral ticket in 1888. But on a fair count the normal anti-Democratic majority in these twenty-seven counties-most of them in the Black Belt-is from 20,000 to 30,000, and with the Kolb vote added this year ought to rise to over 40,000. The success or fallure of the anti-Democratic movement in the State turns wholly, then, on the ability of the anti-Democratic coalition to enforce a compara honest count. Circumstances combine full to make this a task fairly within the powers of the radon managers. In thirty-eight or thirty-nine of the in the hands of the Kolb party and election judge at inspectors will be selected who will see that the counted as it is cast. This transfer of local over to the Kolb faction-one of the fruits of the August election—is alone considered to be worth 5,000 additional votes to the joint electoral ticket. In the twenty-seven or twenty-eight counties where the organized Democracy still mans and controls the polithe fullest exercise of Federal authority will be relied on to defeat fraud.

In the twenty-seven or twenty-eight counties where the organized Democracy still mans and controls the polithe twenty-seven or twenty-eight counties where the organized Democracy still mans and controls the polithe fullest exercise of Federal attitiority will be relied to no defeat fraud.

In the August declaton, under the State law, the polither of the Bake Counties were free to make the polither of the Bake Counties were free to make the polither of the Bake Counties were free to make the polither of the Bake Counties were free to make the polither of the County for the County between the Pederal Courts for trial any ejection official who attempts to faistly the count. Heretofore it has been impossible to get any practical results out the Pederal County for the County of the County and on the stump by the same proscriptive metastas have been employed for years past by the leaders in Montgomery.

But the Democrats do not themselves enter the campaign in the best condition for an aggressive fight. Their rauss are torn by personal jealousies and hatreds, and there is almost an open quarrel between the leaders in north Alabama and those of the central and southern belts. "The Birmingham Age-Herald" and "The Montgomery Advertiser" are still quarrelling over the responsibility for the damacine showing mate by Governor Jones in the August election. Mr. Cleveland's nomination was almost a personal affront to many of the olditme leaders here, who had opposed his candidacy with great virulence and persistence. Of the Democratic State Campaign Committee, just appointed. I am told that not a single member favored the nomination made at Chicago. At edds on personal issues among themselves, disturbed by the masses of the people, and practically repudiated at the polis last August, the Democratic leaders are united, however, in their determination to carry the State in November by any means that come into their hands. They recognize that for them the struggle for supremacy is one of life or death. A repetition of the france of August 1 seems now to be the only thing that can save the State for Cleveland, and a desperate effort will be made, no doubt, to repeat them. It may succeed. But if it fails, as it is more than likely to do in the changed condition of politics here, which this letter has attempted to make intelligible, the Democratic party will find its hold in this State and in this part of the South broken beyond recovery.

A BIG MEETING OF HARLEM REPUBLICANS

STRONG ARGUMENTS FOR VOTERS. The big hall of the Harlem Republican Campaign Club, at Nos. 155 and 160 West One-hundred-andtwenty-fifth-st., was literally packed last night with an ntelligent body of men and women, and a good-sized overflow meeting could have been held by the people who were turned away. Julius M. Mayer presided over the meeting, and with little preliminary business he introduced the speaker of the evening. Colonel W. J. Parkinson, who held the closest attention of his audience over an hour. He spoke on the issues of he campaign in a way that carried conviction to his hearers, and he was frequently interrupted with loud He said :

"The Democratic platform is an English platform secause it seeks in this campaign to institute in this country the same economic principle which now prevalls in England, and the curse of which there, in starving wages it forces upon her laborers, is the very thing her sons and faughters are trying to get rid of in coming to America, where wages for the ame kind of work average more than 75 per cent more than on the other side. Read from Liverpool Journal of Commerce' of June 25, 1892 The Democratic party in the States may rest assured that if English sympathy could carry the election of Cleveland the White House would be theirs.' What do you think of that? Now, why is England so deeply interested in the result of this canvass? Simply ecause she wants to make another Ireland of England has no love for this country. mean in a commercial sense, and she glories n anything that tends to our weakness this direction. What did she do with Ireland? The time was when the hum of the spindle and the rear of the loom were as sweet music to the poor workman of Ireland, as they are to-day to the citizens of our own Lawrence or Lowell, in Massacubsetts, and ander Protection are coming to be to so many centres of the South as well as North; but it is not Eighteen thousand laborers were once ployed in the cotton mills of Dublin alone, and other industries were equally prosperous, making Irish thread and Irish linen and other fabrics of that unfortunate island known the world over. But it is England broke down her protective tariff, then flooded her markets with the products of her own mills, and by this means through cheap prices, the result of cheap labor, stopped the wheels of the Irish industries and made paupers of her sons "In 1886, while Mr. Cleveland was President, then

Talk is cheap, but figures like there tell the story

"It was a magnificent sight on Labor Day to see to thousands upon thousands of noble American workmen march down your streets, as thousands upon thousands more marched through the streets of other cities of our country. How magnificent they looked; clean, kempf, wearing good clothes, stalwarf, brawny men, the representatives of at least one-third of our sixty-five millions of people, the true index of American greatness."

sixty-five millions of people, the true mack of American greatness."

Colonel Parkinson also spoke in detail of the Peck report and of the benefits of the McKinley tatiff. Rediprocity, he said, had increased this country's trade with Brazil 11 per cent in ten months: Cuba, 54 per cent; Forto Rico, 34, and Great Britain, through her Chambes of Commerce, declared it had "knocked her out of" $23,750,000. France and Germany, he said, want to come in on the fide; and it has made us commercially with foreign nations a two-billion-dollar country annually, a Nation whose markets are sought by the world, and which in its presperity defies the competition of the universe.

AN APPEAL TO HUNGARIANS. THEY ARE ASKED TO SUPPORT THE PRINCIPLES OF KOSSUTH.

"The Austro-Hungarian Gazette," which is the organ of the Hungarian societies in the United States, will publish to-morrow in its regular edition a strong appeal to the Hungarians of this country to support the friends of Protection. Accompanying the appeal, which will appear in Bohemian, German, Polish and English a picture of Louis Kossuth, the Hungarian patriot, and pictures showing the difference between the home of a workingman in Free Trade England and in Protected America. The article recalls the fact that forty-one years ago the question as to whether or not Kossuth would be allowed to enter this country was being debated in Congress. The article continues as

At the foremost, most magnificent banquet until then ever held in the city of New-York, the one given in Kossuth's honor by the municipal authorities, the only cause of discord and dissatisfaction was caused by General J. suth, friends of Hungary.

Louis Kossuth's greatest achievement at home, in Hungary, was his introduction of the system of protection of home labor and of home industries. What McKinley proposed, that is to say, what the Republican party proposed and enacted in the law known as the McKinley law, Hungary discussed in the year 1844-1847, and it was the genius of Louis Kossutt which organized in Hungary the law Egglet, the industrial societies, which were societies established to protect home industries, to protect the home laborers, to develop home commerce, and Kossuth did not hate despotism more intensely than he hated Free Trade, and he loved liberty not more than he loved the home laborer, protected by laws which secured to Mazyar ludustries the impetus they could not have otherwise than by Tariff and Protection.

Will the Hungarians of the United States do less than Kossuth?

RAPIDLY INCREASING IN MEMBERSHIP

A rousing meeting of the Young Men's Republican night. This was only the third weekly meeting held since the club's organization, and there are already 125 names on the roll, and twenty more voters were proposed for membership. The officers of the club are greatly pleased at its rapid growth and are sanguine that they will secure a membership of over 1,000 before election. They declare the outlook to be extremely flattering in every way. An old time rally will be held in a week or two, at which time a Harrison and Reid banner will be raised in East Twenty-third-st. Last night John H. Littlefield, of Brooklyn, made an address on the history and development of the National tariff system. His apt illus-trations were frequently applauded by the audience. Mr. Littlefield declared that the outlook in New-Jer sey, where he has been speaking recently, is unusually bright for a Republican victory this fall. crail issues of this campaign. The Republican party as the friend of protected labor, he said, was certain of success at the polls. William R. Warren, the vice-president, presided at the meeting. The other officers are Joseph Hutchinson, president, and Joseph West, secretary. The next meeting will be held on September 29.

James Jahan was the first speaker, and made an effective speech. He was followed by Mr. Clark, of "The Irish World," who told why he should vote for Harrison and Reid, and why he wanted

A CROWD AT THEIR BANNER-RAISING

An immense crowd gathered in front of the clubhouse of the Yorkville Republican Club, No. 147 East Ninety-third-st., last night, to witness the banner-raising of that club. Edward Dubois was chairman of the open-air meeting, which was held in front of the clubhouse, and George Morey was secretary. The banner is a handsome network, stretched in the front yard, and covering the entire front of the building. It bears the portraits of Harrison and Reld, and has the name of the club in large letters at the top. Professor Clark delivered the first address, in which he made some telling arguments, based on Mr. Peck's bill went into operation. Mr. Sherridan, of Massa-chusetts, was the next speaker, and he handled the tariff question with skill and effect. He showed what a benefit the tariff was to the country, and what an evil free trade had always been. The third and last speaker of the evening was Mr. Mellen, who spoke on the benefits of reciprocity. The speakers were frequently interrupted with cheers, and the mention of the name of any great Republican statesman was received with applause.

ENERGETIC GERMAN REPUBLICANS.

The German-American Republican Central Committee has appointed Rudolph Rubens, one of its oldest and most influential members, to inform the press and the public regarding all meetings to be held by the regular German Republican district organizations. This is only another proof of the great energy and the systematic methods which the German-Americans of New-York City are bringing to the German-Americans of Aces I of the Republican party. Never behindhand in former campaigns, they are outdoing all previous efforts. There will be a meeting of the old Xth Assembly District organization to might at the German-American Republican headquarters, No. 12 St. Mark's Pince. The same organization will meet again on September 29 at Union Hall, No. 1,591

THE REPUBLICAN ELECTORS ARE ALL RIGHT A good many auxious inquiries have been made to hairman Hackett, of the Republican State Committee, in Chairman Hackett, of the Republican State Committee, in the last few days as to the eligibility of the men who were named by the Republican State Convention, as candidates for Presidential electors. This is due to the fact that the Democrats have found that one of the men whom they named for elector is not eligible to be an elector because he is president of a national bank. He is C. A. Sweet, of Buffalo, and he has sent in his resignation to the Democratic State Committee. It has been said that Democratic State Committee. It has been said that Christian Kilinck, who is the Republican candidate for elector in the XXXIII district, and William It. Walker, the Republican elector for the XXXIIII District, cannot serve because they are bank directors. Chairman Hackett said yesterday that all of the Republican electors are eligitie, and that this question had been looked into some time ago. The two Republicans whose eligibility had been questioned are directors in State banks, and the law applies only to Federal officials and directors of National

HUNGARIAN REPUBLICANS ENTHUSIASTIC.

Enthusiasm was the prominent feature of the mass neeting held last night under the auspices of the Hun garian Republican League in its hall at No. 57 Secondave. More than 150 persons were in attendance, and the chairman apologized for the absence of over 100 others with the announcement that it was an important Hebrew holiday and they could not attend. Dr. Julius Welss presided. He dwelt upon the steady growth of the League, and was confident that in a week or two its membership would reach the 500 mark. Twenty propositions for mem-bership had been handed to him before the meeting had opened and many more were held over. The club has particularly exerted itself in the direction of urging Hungarian residents who have heretofore neglected it to take out their citizenship papers and cast good Republi-can votes on election day. Colonel Charles H. Denison made a forcible speech upon the Issues of the campaign and his remarks were frequently applauded. Then Morris Cukor delivered an address in the Hungarian dialect. It was enthusiastically received.

LIVELY REPUBLICANS IN THE XXIST ASSEMBLY DISTRICT.

Real, genuine interest of a most active, energetic and intelligent kind is exhibited by the Republican Organization of the XXIst Assembly District. At the meeting of the Election Committee, held last even ing at the clubhouse of the organization, No. 105 East Fifty-ninth-st., a report was made by the select committee which gave the names of the captain, inspector ballot clerk, pool clerk, supervisor and marshal in each of the thirty-three election districts. The list of inspectors, ballot and poll clerks, was filed by Police Board sometime ago for its approval, and was among the first to be filed from any Assembly Dis-The names of the supervisors will soon be ted for approval. The recommendations for submitted for approval. the appointment of marshals have been made, and will in due time be referred to United States Marshal Jacobus.

These early steps in perfecting an organization which is now almost perfect show the intense interest being displayed by the members of this association in the outcome of the coming election. It is intended to make a most thorough canvass of each of the election districts, and meetings will be held from time to tim for the purpose of hearing reports from those intrusted with this work. It is the policy of the organization to have the politics of each voter known before registry, and to let no stone remained unturned to bring out a heavy vote, not only for the Harrison and Reid electors, but for every candidate on the Republican ticket to be voted for in the XXIst Assembly District. Among those who were present last evening

Patrick Nulty, N. A. Knox, James C. Crawford, H. Patrick Nuity, N. A. Khox, James C. Crawood, H. C. Southworth, Joseph Murray, Richard J, Lewis, James Owens, Vincent Collier, Benjamin E. Hall, James Talcott, James A. Blancharde Henry R. De Mildt, and the energetic young president of the organization, Charles A. Hess.

A number of speeches were made concerning the methods to be adopted, the ballot law, etc. The meeting adjourned to meet next Wednesday evening.

VETERANS SHOUT FOR HARRISON. THEY HAVE AN ENTHUSIASTIC MEETING AND

The 500 members of the Veteran Soldiers, Sallors and Sons of Veterans' Republican League Club, who were present in the hall at No. 54 Union Square last even ing showed that they are determined to keep moving right along until victory is assured in November. It was a pity that the hall was not larger, but the lucky 500 who managed to squeeze in heard some Republican doctrines from able speakers. The occasion was the doctrines from able speakers. The occasion was the ratification meeting of the club. Delegates from the Assembly districts of the city were present, and among them were a good many old, tried and true veterans. Colonel Alonzo Aimes presided, and he opened the proceedings with a speech which drew forth many hearty plaudits. Major John Rafferty and James Steek also made addresses. Then M. D. Gallagher was introduced. Mr. Gallagher went right into the spirit of the occasion. He opened with a special explanaof the occasion. He opened with a succinct explanation of some knotty tariff points, after which he il-instrated the fact that the purchasing power of money is as great in this country as it is in the Free-Trade British Isles. He showed this by explaining that the hat he were, which he bought in Dublin for $2.50, was no better than one he could purchase on Broadway for $1 00. His umbrella cost $3 in London, but he could get a better one in any New-York store for 82. Mr. Gallagher's illustrations were well put, and greeted with cheers. Then the club adopted these

Several new members joined the club and the total membership is now 157. Robert Leeds and James McFadden were chosen a committee to enroll members in a marching club. After the regular business the president, Mr. Turner, introduced G. Frank Sutherland, of Jersey City, who made a rousing address on State politics. His references to John Kean, jr., aroused storms of applause, and his remarks in regard to the recent re down amid a round of applause, aroused by his refer ence to the re-election of President Harrison and the election of a Republican Governor and Legislature. James K. Magee, of Illinois, then made an earnest speech on National politics, and was frequently interrupted with outbursts of enthusiasm.

William Linn, secretary of the Republican State league, of Pennsylvania, was at the headquarters to ee Chairman Hahu, of the speakers' bureau, to secur peakers for the League meeting which will be held at Williamsport on September 28. C. H. Dennison, chairman of the executive committee of the Republican eague; Q. C. Shayne, the well-known Republican business man; General N. Martin Curtis, of St. Lawrence ounty, member of Congress from that part of the State; Congressman Quackenbush, of Troy; Congress-W. Ray, of the Norwich district; Simon Wolf, of Washington; Christopher L. Magee, of Pennsylvania; Anson G. Wood, of Wolcott; George H. Wolshone, of Pittsburg, and E. H. Talcott, of Livington, Montana, also were there. Mr. Talcott brought encouraging news from Mon ana and said that the Republican State ticket was an anusually strong one, while the Democratic ticket was particularly weak. The Republicans are thoroughly rganized and united under able leadership. The fact that the Democrats in Congress attempted to place wool and lead, two of the most important products in Montana, on the free list had greatly injured their cause. He declared that the electoral vote of Montana would be cast for Harrison and Reid. THE CAMPAIGN IN THE EMPIRE STATE.

REPUBLICAN LEADERS HAVE A CONFERENCE ABOUT IT. An important meeting of members of the Executive committee of the Republican National Committee held in the rooms of Joseph H. Manley, the member of the committee from Maine, at the Fifth Avenue Hotel, last night. Besides Mr. Manley there were present Chairman Carter, of the National Committee; Colonel James S. Clarkson, Cornellus N. Bliss. Samuel Fessenden, David Martin, William M. Hahn and Elchard C. Kerens, of the National Committee, and Charles W. Hackett, the chairman of the Republican State Committee. The meeting was a long one, lasting nost of the evening. It was an executive session and when the members of the committee were asked to tell what the nature of the business was that brought them together, they asked to be excused from talking about it. It was learned, however, that the members of the committee took up the campaign in this State and discussed it in detail and at length.

Chairman Hackett made a report as to the outlook ere and told what had been done, and what he was intending to do in regard to getting out the vote and seeing that the voters in the county districts are registered and instructed in the use of the ballot under The members of the National Committee expressed great satisfaction with the way in which Mr. Hackett had conducted the campaign so far, the new law. and they said that they stood ready to aid him in every way possible. Another subject which was taken up was the probable attempts which Tammany Hall will make to colonize tramps in this city, and vote them by the score on election day. This Tammany tried to do the score on election day. This Tammany tried to do done this when it seemed to be the last resort, and four years ago, but was prevented, in a great after it was learned that the Supreme Court could National Committee, and the detectives who were working under his orders.
Something will be done this year, as well, to stop

as far as possible the fraudulent registration of voters. The Republicans are more handicapped this year than they were four years ago, owing to the fact that there are two Temmany Hall election officials to the Repub licans' one, and all of the tramps that Tammany can bring out will be allowed to swear their votes in. Heretofore this has been prevented in a measure, because there was a tie vote in the election board, and when it was plain that a man was trying to get an illegal vote into the ballot-boxes the Republican election officers voted against the Democrats. Another uestion which came up was the subject of naturaliza tion. Methods to be adopted to prevent the wholesale naturalization of men who are not yet entitled to become citizens, and to get naturalized all of those who are really entitled to become citizens, were discussed. After the conference broke up, Chairman Carter had a long talk with ex-senator Thomas C. Platt.

Dubuque, Iowa, Sept. 22 .- In the German Catholic Convention, after a long debate in which much feeling was shown on both sides, the resolutions deuncing Senator Davis for his reference to Cahenslyism were reconsidered, and a special committee appointed to draft a new set. The next convention would have gone to Milwankee had the delegates from that city desired it, but only Quincy and St. Louis entered the contest, The latter city was chosen.

THE ENGLISH ESTATE SWINDLE AGAIN. THIS TIME IT IS FOILED BEFORE ANY ONE IS

A petty swindling scheme, based on the usual mythical estate in England, has been nipped in the bud by postoffice and police officials. money was not asked to carry on litigation for the vast property, but to pay taxes on the land which had already been awarded to the dupe. The swindler in this case is Joseph Leger, who some time ago cotablished the Dominion Employment Agency, at No. 451 Eighth-ave. A man who gave his name as Harris rented part of the second floor of the house, but Harris and Leger are undoubledly one.

Last week the man sent a number of his letters all over the country, apparently to persons who be-lieved themselves to be helps to English estates. He sent in the letters decrees of the Supreme Court, Chancery, London, bearing the court seal and the stamp G. W. Rawlings, tax assessor. The letter in one instance read:

I inclose the decree in your case, which establishes your title. Please send the #35 by registered letter, not by bank check, as it would require time to get it cashed and I must report at once. There is only one other way to collect the tax, which would be by seiling the property for taxes. Use inclosed envelope.

Leger pretended to represent the British Government. Evidently, a lot of letters were sent out last ment. Evidently, a lot of letters were sent out last week, for on Wednesday, replies began to come in. Over sixty arrived on that day, two of them registered. In the meantime, inquiries about the trustworthiness of Leger reached the police, the postoffice and The Tribune. The superintendent of Station E of the postoffice, at Seventh-ave, and Twenty-eighth-st, made an investigation and reported to Acting Assistant Post-muster E. D. Morgan. Leger's mail was at once stopped and the case was reported to Washington. A lot of letters arrived for the swindler yester day, but were detained. Inspector Steers assigned Detective Sergeant Golden to the case, but he could not find Leger or Harris. Joseph J. Ott was in charge of the agency. He had been employed on Friday. He said that Harris had gone West. Ott had been told that the business of the agency was employing men to build Western railroads. When he heard that Harris was a swindler, he brought to the postoffice all the letters he received on Wednesday. He also told all he knew to the police.
